CHELTENHAM
FASHION WEEK

Dear fashion lovers

We are thrilled to return again this year with another packed programme of fashionable events, all designed to inspire, educate and entertain.

This year, on a personal level, the whole team has been working hard to find 'balance' in our hectic lives and this applies to our love of fashion too. Finding time to prioritise on what's important is becoming even harder in this competitive market place where looks are considered more important than achievements and pursuit of the perfect image is an empty and full-time task.

So let's slow down a little and remember that one of the keys to being able to perform to the best of our abilities, is to feel healthy, energised and to enjoy who you are. This message can never be underestimated to our children and young people as they try and find their place in an ever competing world. Clothes and fashion should be fun, a way of expressing the many personalities and moods we all feel on a daily basis. So during our fashion week do dress up, wear your best frock, with your favourite shoes, experiment with a new look, channel your favourite screen icon and lets have some fun in the run up to Christmas!

Our quest for working with young people continues, their energy and creativity inspires us and feeds our project and we are honoured to have the opportunity of being able to make a small difference in their lives in whatever way we can.

We are very committed to raising money and awareness for our chosen charities which this year are the Hop Skip and Jump Foundation, www.hopskipandjump.org.uk and the Poppy Appeal, www.britishlegion.org.uk.

We do hope you can join us this December.

'How to make a living from fashion blogging' by Emily Johnston aka Fashion Foie Gras

Date: Monday 2nd December

Time: 11.00am – 12:00 am

Venue: Gloucestershire College, Cheltenham Campus, Princess Elizabeth Way,
Cheltenham, GL51 7SJ

Price: £5.00

Emily Johnston, 32, gave up her job in PR to work full time on her blog Fashion Foie Gras, which she set up three years ago.

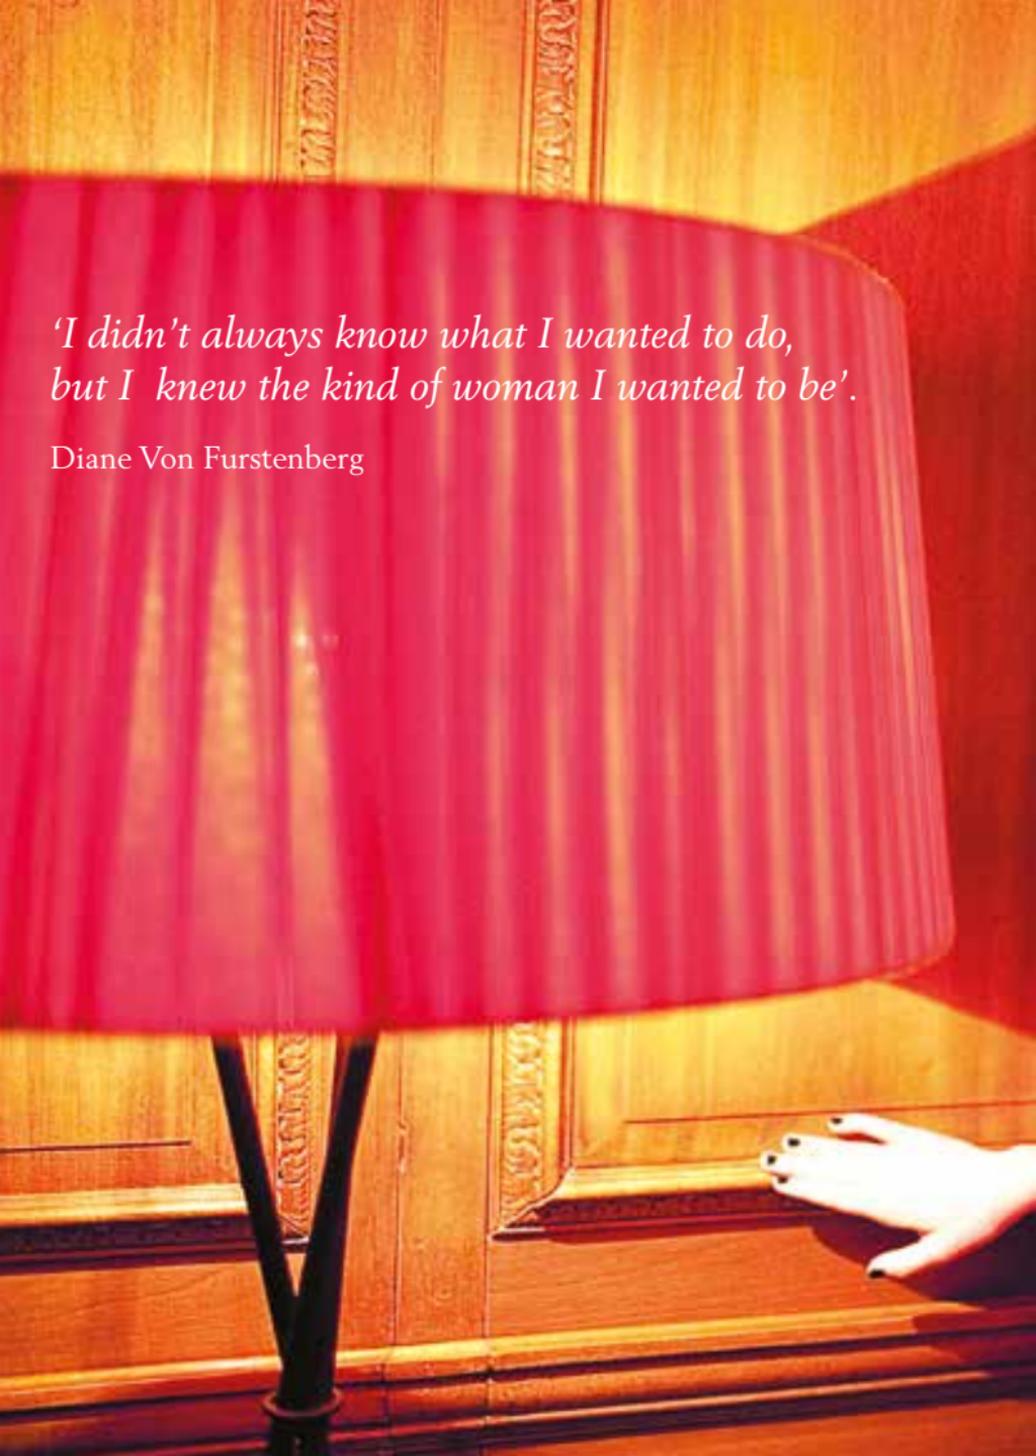

'I'd work 14 hours a day at my job then come back home and write my blog for six hours'.

Come and hear Emily share her tips on how to make it as a fashion blogger. She says the appeal of her blog, which attracts 400,000 readers a month, is that she writes about fashion news in a straightforward way.

'Lots of fashion writing uses quite technical phrases,' she says. 'I cover fashion news in a way that doesn't intimidate people. It's about taking fashion news and making it a conversation. I didn't try to be something I wasn't.'

Cheltenham Fashion Week presents Selina Blow, Fashion Designer

Date: Thursday 5th September

Time: 11.00 am – 12:00 am

Venue: Gloucestershire College, Cheltenham Campus, Princess Elizabeth Way,
Cheltenham GL51 7SJ

Price: £5.00

Born in Gloucestershire, Selina has been much influenced by her Sri Lankan background, appreciating a love for colour and textiles. Mainly educated in England she moved to New York in 1990 working for several publications in the fashion department, where she did her first collection based on Ivan the Terrible and continued to build up her market in America, Japan and Europe.

Selina is well known for her use of textiles and her unabashed approach of clashing colours and fabrics and is a firm believer of UK production. Her pieces are renowned for being collectors items, but worn as part of every day life, pieces from Selina's collection are shown at the V&A and The Metropolitan Museum in New York.

"I do not believe in fashion trends, I make beautiful pieces that have been handmade from the cloth to garment, I want people to enjoy wearing my clothes as part of their every day life."

'Blow by Blow' – 'An intimate Audience with Detmar Blow

Date: Thursday 5th December

Time: 11:00 – 12:30pm (to allow for book signing)

Venue: Cowley Manor, Cowley, near Cheltenham, Glos GL53 9NL

Price: £17.00, including coffee, tea & seasonal treats

Isabella Blow the patron of couture is credited with having discovered the careers of famed designers Alexander McQueen and Philip Treacy amongst others; and was recognised as their great muse, friend and confidante.

Her thirty year career, which began as Anna Wintour's assistant at Vogue and took in stints as fashion director of Tatler and Fashion Editor of Sunday Times Style was truly remarkable.

Personally she was a courageous woman who tried passionately and often to escape a legacy of depression that ultimately proved insurmountable.

Join us for coffee and seasonal treats as we listen to the incredible story of Isabella Blow, told by her husband Detmar Blow.

A signed copy of biography 'Blow by Blow' will be available to purchase after the event, please note that credit card facilities will not be available onsite therefore purchases will need to be paid for either by cheque or cash.

'A riveting account of Issie's life and their idiosyncratic marriage... this tale is a love story - and one with the tragedy dial set to 10'

Sunday Times Style

For those wishing to stay for lunch a relaxed light bite bar menu, or delicious seasonal Christmas menu will be available within the main restaurant – for further menu details or to book a table please call Cowley Manor on 01242 870900

*'Style is like your fingerprint, individual and distinct.
Be different'.*
